

ST HILD COLLEGE

Launch Information

January 2017

A New College

St Hild College is a new theological institution formed by the merger in January 2017 of Yorkshire Ministry Course and St Barnabas Theological Centre. The college has over 100 students at three teaching centres in Sheffield, Mirfield and York.

Named after St Hild, a pioneering educator of this region (614-680AD), our vision is to serve the health and growth of the church in Yorkshire and the North by providing excellent formation for mission and ministry.

Full details and our new prospectus will be released by early March. For more details, or to register your interest, contact: enquiries@sthild.org.

Study with St Hild College

Full-time Ordination Training - open to full-time Anglican ordinands from across the country. This route combines residential formation at six weekends and an Easter School each year, weekly teaching in Sheffield or Mirfield, and a local context for mission and ministry 16-20 hours per week.

Part-time Ordination Training - for part-time Anglican ordinands based within travelling distance of our teaching centres. This route combines residential formation at six weekends and an Easter School each year, weekly teaching in Sheffield, Mirfield or York, and supervised placement experience.

Baptist Ministers in Training - an accredited full-time or part-time route for Baptist ministers in training. This route combines the Baptist Leadership Programme, run in association with Northern Baptist College, with weekly teaching in Sheffield, and supervised ministry in a local context.

Independent Students - we offer a range of academic pathways, from taster modules to a BA or MA degree. Independent students can also access missional leadership training at the Barnabas Teaching Centre, Sheffield.

Continuing Ministerial Education - we offer graduate and postgraduate options for church leaders. We also work in partnership with Initial Ministerial Education officers in the Dioceses of Sheffield, Leeds and York to offer accredited theological teaching to curates in the Church of England.
